WILTSHIRE MURDERED

Wealthy Manufacturer Is Put to Death by Italians

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Revenge is now believed to be the motive for the murder of Charles Wiltshire, the wealthy glove manufacturer who was found dead last night in his factory with thirty-seven stiletto wounds in his body.

About a month ago Wiltshire caused the arrest of two Italians for having sold him stolen property. One was sentenced to serve a term in the house of correction and the other was dismissed. It is the belief of the police that the freed man, who is now in custody, planned to murder Wiltshire for revenge.

This belief is substantiated by the identification of the stiletto sheath which was found near the body as the property of a brother of the suspect. The brother is said to have gone to Milwaukee, where the authorities have been asked to assist in the search for him.

Wiltshire's body was discovered near the front door of his factory. The door padlock and keys were found nearby. This indicated that he was attacked while closing his factory, and the police are working on the theory that the murderer planned to stay in Wiltshire's home until he was near.

The men under arrest are Lorenzo Bartell, 24 years old, and Frank Ebbelle, 27 years old. The police are searching for the latter's brother, Chris Ebbelle. The police say the stiletto sheath found near Wiltshire's body is the property of Chris Ebbelle. Neither of the men arrested would make a statement.

Chris Ebbelle was drawn into the case when his wife and daughter, unaware of the murder, identified the stiletto sheath as belonging to him. His daughter told the police she had found the stiletto and sheath some time ago, and gave them to her father. Both said that Ebbelle carried the stiletto in his guard when he left home last night.

DECLARED DAMNABLE

Practice of Placing Photos of Young Boys in Rogues' Gallery

Chicago, Feb. 12.—"Mugging," as the system of photographing prisoners for the rogues' gallery is sometimes termed by police officers, received severe condemnation in the municipal court yesterday, when Judge Gimmell ordered Detective James McCarthy to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt of court for having caused Roy Whitmore, a student who had been fined $5 for disorderly conduct, to be photographed and placing the picture in the bureau.

Using the words "outrageous and damnable" in referring to some of the methods resorted to by the police in the treatment of prisoners, Judge Gimmell said:

"The rule laid down by your superiors is that no person should be taken to the bureau of identification unless fined more than $50. In photographing that boy, and perhaps sending the picture throughout the country as that of a rogue, I do not believe you acted rightly. I will enter a rule against you to show why you should not be adjudged in contempt of this court."

To Keep the Hair Light and Fluffy

(From Chicago Inter-Ocean.) The proper care of the hair does not require a woman to scour her scalp with soap and drench her hair with water until a shampoo, including drying the hair, takes the better part of the day. In fact, authorities say that the less soap and water used on the hair the better, as the alkali and moisture tend to make the hair coarse, dull and brittle.

If you want to keep the scalp clean and the hair light and fluffy, try dry shampooing. Put in a quart jar, or any other handy container, four ounces of powdered orris root and four ounces of talcum. Stir and shake until thoroughly mixed. A beautiful cleansing powder with a delicate perfume will be the result. Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture on the head and then brush it well through the hair. This brings out the natural color of the hair, makes it soft and glossy, and if continued regularly, tends to make the hair long and abundant, for it is a natural hair grower.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 12.—The wife of Brig. General Geo. Randall, retired, died here last night.

NEW LAND IN WITNESSES ANTARCTIC DISAGREE

French Expedition Returns With Record of Discoveries

Punta Arenas, Feb. 12.—The French Antarctic expedition appears to have been a success from a scientific point of view. Dr. Charcot, the commander, is here, having arrived on the steamer Pourquoi-Paris. New land was discovered far south, the coast lines surveyed, and early maps made complete.

During the first Antarctic summer, 1908-09, the expedition, in spite of the difficulties which threatened to imperil its success, was able to complete the map as far as Adelaide Island, off the north entrance to the Strait of Magellan, and the westernmost of the group of Queen Adelaide Island, and a stretch of new land 120 miles long was surveyed. The expedition ultimately reached Alexander Island. The region was explored and proved to be barren and covered with icebergs, glaciers and masses of rock. It afforded no shelter to the explorers who wintered at Petermann Island.

The session was comparatively mild, but had enough to cause considerable sickness in the party.

Numerous interesting excursions were made among the glaciers. During the subsequent Antarctic summer the expedition explored Deception and Budgman Islands, in South Shetland archipelago. Following this, the explorers continued south, discovering new land to the west and south of Alexander Island, and Peter Island was also discovered.

The expedition navigated as far as latitude 70 degrees south, longitude 120 west.

Alexander Island, or as it is sometimes called, Alexander Land, is a small island in the South Atlantic ocean, about latitude 69 degrees south, longitude 75 degrees west, and is considered to be a part of the so-called Antarctic continent. It was discovered by Bellingshausen in 1821.

New York, Feb. 12.—Hebert L. Bridgman, secretary of the Peary Arctic club, today sent the following message:

"Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 10: 'Charcot, Punta Arenas: Congratulations. Peary's North Pole salutes you. (Signed) Bridgman.' The following reply was received: 'Punta Arenas, Chile, Feb. 11: Peary, North Pole, Brooklyn—Hearty congratulations. (Signed) Charcot.'"

New York, Feb. 12.—The hundred boy students from the Morris High school of this city are today scouring the parks and waste places of upper New York in a search for Cornell Barnes, the 15-year-old fellow student who has been missing from his home for several days. It is believed that the boy wandered away in a temporary derangement, due to over-study.

COL. CHAILLE-LONG IS TO RECEIVE A MEDAL.

New York, Feb. 12.—Colonel Charles Chaille-Long, the explorer, will come from his home in Baltimore to New York, early next week to receive from the American Geographical society its medal for eminence in exploration. The honor is a long deferred one, the society thereby reaffirming its faith in Col. Chaille-Long's discoveries along the course of the Victorian Nile in 1874.

The occasion will revive the memory of what, in the last generation, was a feud between explorers almost as notable and fully as bitter as the recent disagreement in matters polar.

Test of the Reliability of Eye-Witnesses to a "Hold-Up"

Manhattan, Ken., Feb. 12.—Professor McKeever of the Kansas Agricultural college, in an experiment before a psychology class, staged a "holdup" in his class room yesterday and afterward took testimony on the subject. The object was to test the reliability of eye-witnesses.

Professor McKeever selected three young men to stage the "holdup" and had them practice their parts in his office. He also made note of their personal appearance. They were instructed actually what to do and what to say. All of these things were placed in a notebook in order that the testimony might be compared with the facts.

The class in psychology had just assembled when in rushed "Jones" who whistled and pointed a wrench at his pursuers and exclaimed: "Stand back or I'll shoot." Turning he ran across the room and dropped to his knees, letting fall a small bag which he carried, saying:

"There, take it," and ran out of the room.

He was closely followed by "Smith" and "White." Smith yelled, "Give it up, you scoundrel," and grabbed the bag and ran out. White came in carrying a small revolver with the cylinder removed, yelling:

"Take it from him, Eddie. He won't hurt you."

The play lasted only a few seconds and Professor McKeever asked each member of the class to write an account of what happened.

Although Smith was not armed in any manner, yet two testified that he carried a revolver in his hands and snapped it several times, while a third credited him with saying:

"Stop, or I'll shoot," at the same time aiming at Jones.

White, though armed, was scarcely noticed. One witness testified that he carried a club of some kind, but no one mentioned the fact that he carried a revolver with the cylinder removed.

Likewise testimony as to the appearance of the individuals did not agree. After the testimony was all in, Professor McKeever said:

"It was just a plain case of attempting to tell what they saw while excited, and they could not do it and agree."

LONG DISTANCE COVERED BY A TROLLEY LINE.

St. Louis, Feb. 12.—From Syracuse, N. Y., to St. Louis, "by trolley," is the achievement of A. J. Littlejohn, an eastern traction company official, who arrived here yesterday. Littlejohn took a round-about course and traveled 1,729 miles. The trip back to Syracuse, which he began last night, will cover only 1,000 miles.

Mr. Littlejohn traveled sixty-eight miles on steam roads. Between Kalamazoo and Niles, Mich., a distance of forty-eight miles, and between Paris and Ridge Farm, Ill., twenty miles, he abandoned the interurban electric line. Of the total distance of 1,749 miles, 1,659 of them were over electric railways.

We Treat You 30 Days FREE

Blood Poison can never be cured with mercury or potash. You might as well know this first as last. Medical authorities say so. The most these drugs can do is to irritate the blood and make it into the system and smother it for several years. Then when you think you are cured, pitiful mercury symptoms will break out, and you find that your bones have been rotting all the while. Your teeth will begin to fall out, your tissues, glands, brain and vital organs will show the terrible destructive power of the mercury and potash. Locomotor Ataxia, Paralysis, Insanity and Premature Death are then almost inevitable. Any medical authority will corroborate these statements. The remarkable, vegetable Obbae Treatment does not drive in the blood but drives it out. It positively contains no mineral poison whatever, so the one cured by the Obbae Treatment never runs the terrible risk of having your bones rot, your nerves collapse, your teeth fall out, your kidneys degenerate and your brain weaken. The Obbae Treatment is a safe, practical, reliable, and does not cost you 20 days. This is why we offer to try any blood poison victim living, no matter how bad a case a 30-day Treatment FREE.

Great Obbae Treatment

This is a square deal. You sign nothing, no note, make no promise, except to take the treatment. ## Liquid Bread

This is the name that has been given by eminent physicians to beer of good quality. That the name is justified is proved by the chemical analysis of beer.

One quart of good beer contains one-tenth to one-fifth of a pound of solid food substances, consisting of:

1. Albumen, 46 to 124 grains.
2. Nutricious salts, especially the all important phosphates.
3. Extract of malt, which constitutes the greater part of the solids.

These ingredients make beer a strength-giving food, a tonic, and a powerful aid to digestion.

Becker's Beer contains only 3.1-2 per cent of alcohol. It is a FOOD—NOT AN INTOXICANT.

BECKER'S is classed as one of the best American Beers.

HATPINS OF THOUSANDS THE LADIES OF SOLDIERS

Declared to Be Source of Danger to Mankind

New York, Feb. 12.—Members of the Woman's Democratic club have digressed from suffrage to hatpins. Two hours of their latest meeting was devoted to a discussion as to the proper length of woman's longest implement. Mrs. Margaret E. Fitzgerald declared that the present law, providing for a hatpin less than "nine inches," is dangerous. No hatpin, she said should extend beyond the crown of the hat.

To emphasize her point, Mrs. Fitzgerald told of the narrow escape of a man on a street car when a woman careened against him and her hatpin was driven into his ear.

"If that had been his eye," she said, "he would have been dead."

LINCOLN DAY IS BEING OBSERVED IN NEW YORK

New York, Feb. 12.—New York, city and state, in common with many other cities and states throughout the country, is today honoring the memory of Abraham Lincoln, born on February 12 a year more than a century ago. The day has been a legal holiday in New York state for fourteen years past.

The principal event scheduled for the day in this city is the annual Lincoln dinner of the Republican club, at which President Taft will deliver the principal address. Republicans from far and near are in the city for this dinner, which will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Many business houses, particularly the Wall street district, are observing the day by closing their doors. More than a hundred public meetings and lectures are on the day's program in various parts of the city. The speakers include Governor Robert B. Glenn of North Carolina, George B. Cortis, former secretary of the treasury, President Melancthon Stryker of Hamilton college and Generals Daniel B. Sickles and James Grant Wilson, both intimate friends of Lincoln.

TAFT WILL BE ASKED TO SPEAK ON CONSERVATION

Chicago, Feb. 12.—With the coming of President Taft to Chicago on March 17, the cause of national conservation is expected to be advanced. At a meeting of delegates from the allied clubs of Chicago at the Union League club yesterday arrangements were made to form a Chicago conservation association, and Alfred L. Baker was selected as president of the permanent organization.

President Taft will be urged by a large delegation composed of the presidents and vice-presidents of sixteen of the most prominent clubs in Chicago to deliver an address on conservation.

This delegation will leave for Washington bearing a special invitation to deliver the address at a mass-meeting to be held under the auspices of the newly-formed conservation association.

SCORE OF PEOPLE ARE INJURED ON OAKLAND TRESTLE

Oakland, Feb. 12.—More than a score of people were injured today and probably one may die as the result of a wreck on the long trestle of the Key Route line.

Because of a heavy fog on the bay, a crowded Oakland train was flagged at what is known as the second station, midway on the three-mile trestle. It was given a three-minute headway. A Berkeley train was scheduled to reach the pier 20 minutes later. Failing to catch any signals, the train, not going at the usual rate of speed, was struck from behind by the Berkeley train.

The Berkeley train telescoped the rear car of the Oakland train.

H. F. Stone of this city sustained a fractured skull and may die.

USEFUL ANIMALS OUTNUMBER THE HUMAN ARMY

Washington, Feb. 12.—If all the useful animals in the world were to organize themselves for revolt against the cruelties of man they would outnumber any human army that could be brought against them, even if every man, woman and child of every race under the sun marched from the four corners of the earth to join in its ranks.

Such records as the department of agriculture has been able to gather and has just summarized in the department's "crop reporter" show that the population of useful animals more than equals the estimated population of the earth.

General Bell Wether could organize his sheep into a division of 580,000,000 and outnumber the Chinese by more than a hundred million. The horse could have a cavalry division of more than 95,000,000 with a corps of more than 7,000,000 mules and 9,000,000 jackasses to bring supplies to the front. About 100,000,000 goats could furnish milk and wool, while 21,000,000 buffaloes could stamp out Spain, man by man. Meanwhile 2,000,000 camels could campaign in their familiar conditions of deserts and dry places and 900,300 hardy reindeer could sweep the northern climes.

There are, as nearly as can be estimated, one billion useful animals in the world, including, in addition to those above mentioned, enormous numbers of cattle and hogs.

Omaha, Feb. 12.—Previous high prices for hogs in the South Omaha market were broken again today when the top heavy weights became $8.80 per hundred pounds.
